ABSTRACT

This second grade elementary language text, designed for children in bilingual Inupiat-English programs in Ambler, Kobuk, Kiana, Noorvik, and Shungnak, contains a story about a lynx who tries to kill two caribou at one time but who is himself killed. Each page of text is illustrated with a black-and-white drawing. The English equivalent is given at the back and is not included in student copies of the book. (CFM)

Page	Text
1	A lynx sat on a hillside.
2	A man sat on a hillside.
3	The man saw the lynx. The lynx didn't see the man.
4	The lynx looked down the valley. He saw two caribou. They were coming toward the lynx.
5	The lynx was thinking to himself. He said, "Two caribou are coming. I would like to eat two caribou tongues."
6	The man saw the caribou. He was thinking to himself. He said, "Shall I eat one lynx? Or, shall I eat two caribou?"
7	The lynx saw a tree. The tree was close to the lynx. The lynx climbed into the tree. He waited for the two caribou.
8	The two caribou came closer. They didn't see the lynx. They didn't see the man. They said, "Shall we eat our lunch under the tree?"
9	The two caribou came closer and closer. The lynx watched the two caribou. He thought, "Two caribou tongues for dinner." The man watched the two caribou and the lynx. He thought, "Shall I eat two caribou or one lynx?"
10	The two caribou were very close. The lynx sat in the tree. He was thinking. He said,"How can I get two caribou at one time?

11 The man sat on the hill.
He watched the two caribou.
He watched the lynx.
He thought to himself, "What will happen?
How will the lynx get the two caribou?"

12 The caribou were under the tree.
The snow was not deep.
They were eating the dry grass.

13 The lynx was sitting quietly in the tree.
He was thinking.
"How can I get two caribou?"

14 The lynx had an idea.
He waited until the two caribou were under him.
The lynx dropped out of the tree.
He landed on top of the two caribou.
His two right feet were on one caribou.
His two left feet were on the other caribou.

15 The two caribou were surprised.
They started to run.
The lynx held on tightly.
The man watched from the hill.

16 The two caribou ran faster.
The wind was cold.
The lynx couldn't see.
His eyes watered.
He closed them.
He dug his claws into the two caribou.
He held on more tightly.

17 The two caribou ran faster.
The lynx dug his claws in deeper.
The wind was colder.
The lynx closed his eyes harder.
The man watched from the hill.

18 The two caribou saw a tree.
They ran toward it.
The lynx didn't see the tree.
His eyes were shut.
The man saw the tree.

19 The two caribou ran toward the tree.
The lynx kept his eyes tightly shut.
The tears ran out of his eyes.
The lynx thought to himself.
He said, "Two caribou tongues for dinner."
He hung on to the two caribou.
The two caribou ran toward the tree.
The man watched.

20 Suddenly, the lynx felt a bump.
He saw stars.
Lights flashed.
He turned end over end in the air.

21 The lynx fell into the snow.
He opened one eye.
He thought he saw another lynx.

22 The other lynx opened one eye.
He, too, thought he saw another lynx.

23 The two caribou kept on running.
The man watched.
He was laughing.

24 The man put on his snow shoes.
He went to the lynx.
He picked up both halves of the lynx.

25 The man went home.
He thought, "I won't eat caribou.
I'll eat lynx.
I like lynx better than caribou anyway."

26 The man sat in his house.
His friends came to visit.
The man told the story of the lynx and the two caribou.
His friends laughed.
They didn't believe the story.
Do you think that this story is true?
